Steps

1. Print and check the 3 cm calibration square before cutting.
2. This block uses standard assumptions for shoulder slope, underbust - sew a quick muslin (test version) from cheap fabric first and adjust before cutting your real fabric.
3. Cut every piece as labelled: pieces marked 'on fold' on the fabric fold, 'cut 2' twice.
4. Fuse interfacing to the neck facings.
5. Staystitch the neckline just inside the seam line so it doesn't stretch while you work.
6. Sew all darts first, pressing toward the center.
7. Sew the bodice shoulder seams and press them open.
8. Sew the front and back neck facings together at the shoulders; finish the facing's outer edge (zigzag, overlock or turn 5 mm and stitch).
9. Attach the facing to the neckline right sides together, leaving the last 2 cm free at each center back edge (the zipper goes there later). Trim to 6 mm, clip into the curve every 2 cm.
10. Understitch: press the seam allowance toward the facing and stitch it to the facing 2 mm from the seam - this keeps the facing rolled inside. Turn, press, tack at the shoulder seams.
11. Sew the bodice side seams.
12. Finish armholes with bias binding (sleeveless).
13. Gather the skirt panels along the marked line until they match the bodice waist.
14. Sew the skirt seams (leave the center back seam open where the zipper will go), then join bodice to skirt at the underbust seam (the empire line sits right under the bust), matching side seams.

15. Insert an invisible zipper in the center back through bodice and skirt: install the zipper BEFORE closing the seam below it, then close the rest of the seam.
16. Fold the free facing ends back over the zipper tape and hand-tack them down so the edge sits clean against the zipper.
17. Try it on, then hem with a 2 cm double fold.
18. Drawstring gathering (büzgi): cut the panel and the cord. Fold the panel's top edge under to form a casing (marked channel line) and stitch it, leaving the two centre eyelets open. Fold the cord in half lengthwise right sides together, stitch, turn, and thread it through the casing. Gather the panel down to the marked finished length by pulling the cord, distribute the fullness evenly, then join the gathered edge to the body at the placement notch.
